

“Patrick and I managed a portfolio together of several challenging communities. As Regional Sales Manager he was able to beat goals set in communities that were not selling many homes previously. Aside from his proven ability to motivate a team & keep their eye on the prize, Patrick is also organized and has the ability to manage his time sensibly. He has a drive for success that can be felt when in his presence. Patrick is full of energy and able to mold quickly with any changes that may come his way. His attitude is always positive. Patrick is continually thinking ahead & planning how to make his team a success by being a take-charge person who is able to relate his creative ideas & the benefits they will have to the company and employees. If you are looking for an eager, energetic person to help lead your team, Patrick is your person. Well deserved Regional Sales Manager of 2009!” June 7, 2011
